[REDACTED]	[REDACTED]	Yes	Renting, close to major roads and shopping.	Budd Ave near JD Morgan park.	Between San Tomas Expressway and Winchester Blvd.		I don't know where the district lines are & I don't believe most people do. I know I can look them up but like myself I don't believe most people have a need to know.
[REDACTED]	[REDACTED]	Yes	High school activities, after hour events, downtown weekend activities.	W. Hacienda & Winchester	Rolling Hills Middle School to Winchester & Hamilton. 		Yes	The Moreland School District is strong and highly regarded in our area. El Paseo, Westgate and Kirkwood Plaza get lots of activity. The fields at Moreland Middle School and Latimer School get a fair amount of use.	Moreland West, which is about 2/3rds West San Jose and 1/3rd Campbell.	We're sort of nice little, quiet section of our big urban area, bounded by Hamilton Avenue, Campbell Avenue and San Tomas Aquino Road.	Our neighborhood is pretty distant from the "main" parts of Campbell -- downtown, Pruneyard, Campbell Park, Los Gatos Creek, John D. Morgan Park and the Community Center. We've always felt perhaps a bit more West San Jose-ish than Campbell-ish, but I am pretty certain most Campbell residents of our neighbor do prefer being in Campbell to the larger San Jose. That said, West SJ really differs greatly from downtown SJ and other parts of SJ, so we're sort of unique little region.	I know the legal issues and rationale for district elections, and I think it makes great sense in many cities. But not for Campbell. It's too bad we had to move this way. I think the boundaries for our District 4 are pretty sound. Covers the general area. What we have in common with, say, the Rincon-Winchester neighborhood is just a general sort of high regard for a well-functioning city, but nothing else too ... concrete. Sorry for this weak input, but bottom line is that I believe the current boundaries are fine.
